We are proud here in Donegal to lay claim to one of Ireland's most successful sporting sons, Mr Paul Mc Ginley, Professional Golfer.

Paul McGinley was born in Dublin on December 16th, 1966. He is married with three children.

Paul has strong connections with Donegal with both his mother and father hailing from Rathmullan and Dunfanaghy respectively. Paul grew up in Dublin but his love for Donegal goes back to his childhood days and he cherishes fond memories of the many family holidays spent in Donegal.

From an early age Paul displayed a great aptitude for sport, playing hurling and football for his local team. At the age of nineteen he came close to getting a place on the Dublin GAA football team but unfortunately during a game Paul suffered a bad injury breaking his kneecap which effectively ended his footballing career.

However this unfortunate accident proved to be the catalyst that propelled Paul onto the golfing scene and unleashed a special talent that conquered even the most challenging and hostile golf courses around the world and won the admiration and hearts of many fans.

In his early golfing days Paul played college golf in America and later turned pro in 1991. Paul describes how he enjoyed his role as a "team player" and at the moment is probably best remembered for his brilliant performances representing Europe in the Ryder Cup in 2002, 2004 and 2006. He is most famous for holing the winning putt for the European team in the 2002 Ryder Cup.

According to Paul the only downside to his golfing career is all the travelling and time spent away from his wife and three young children. Approximately thirty five weeks are spent on the road and as a result Paul feels he misses out on a good part of family life. On the other hand he is delighted with his very successful career to date that has provided him with the opportunity to travel all over the world. Donegal always holds a special attraction for Paul and he says "there is no other place I'd rather be".

Each year Paul and his family spend two to three weeks holidaying in the county. He enjoys playing a leisurely round of golf in Dunfanaghy on the golf course where he played as a child. Paul also highly recommends Portsalon and Rosapenna golf courses which are located in magnificent coastal settings.

At the moment Paul is enjoying a well earned break from his very busy schedule.

We wish him all the best for 2010 season and the future.

Letterkenny Town Park

Bernard Mc Glinchey Town Park is located at Hospital Roundabout (Kilmacrennan Road) and is a wonderful asset to Letterkenny. Opened in 1999, this park offers visitors an opportunity to enjoy the tranquility of the countryside in a busy town. The park is well laid out with children's play areas, herb garden, flower beds, mature and new trees, an orchard area, walks and a garden of Remembrance and has wonderful leaf-shaped gates at several entry points.

LETTERKENNY

When it comes to family enjoyment, Letterkenny has plenty to offer. Packed with fun and exciting opportunities for the whole family, whether you want to have a splashing time in the pool and slides, share a family picnic in the beautiful Town Park, shop in various retail centres, enjoy the latest releases on the big screen or simply take the kids go-karting, it's a great place to spend time together creating memories to last a lifetime. Letterkenny is a convenient base for day trips to a variety of locations throughout the county.

A visit to Letterkenny would not be complete without an evening in one of its many restaurants, which offer a delicious choice of servings from traditional Irish dishes to fantastic flavours from all around the world. Experience fine dining, exotic meals, hearty food or have a quick bite to eat in one of the many places, it's good to know the town's self catering accommodation is as friendly as its population.

Let Letterkenny be your Gateway to Donegal.

INISHOWEN

The Inishowen Penin-sula is situated in the Northwest of Donegal. It is the most northerly part of Ireland and it comprises an area of about 309 sq miles. It's northern shore is on the restless Atlantic Ocean. Lough Swilly forms its western boundary and Lough Foyle its eastern boundary. Monuments of an earlier age grow from the landscape as castles, towers and ancient churches shimmer in the sunshine.

Inishowen is a golfer's paradise with five magnificent golf links to choose from. The ocean and lakes are perfect for fishing, wind surfing, swimming, canoeing, water-skiing and sailing. The fishing enthusiast will be well catered for in Inishowen with sea, shore, river and lake fishing.

ARDARA

Ardara is situated close to the small River Ownetocher. This heritage town is a major centre for the manufacture of hand-woven tweeds with several shops along the main street selling tweeds and hand-knitted sweaters. While in the town pay a visit to The Ardara Heritage Centre – which houses an exhibition relating the history of Donegal Tweeds.

Pubs in Ardara are welcoming and friendly – the visitor can experience a rich mix of traditional music.

The County of Donegal offers many exciting places to visit and explore with something that will suits all the family.
